Summary of the Coursework Results

Luka Triska

May 26, 2017

During the coursework, I have learned how to work with different APIs, how to read from JSON files, create distributable .exe packages and write documentation, programme description, so on and so forth. The data that my programme can collect can be used to determine the safety of different roads at a desired time. It may be very useful to those who wish to plan a road trip.